

A) probe drops, following free fall trajectory, initially tangent to static world line

B) event when static must send a light signal to reach probe at horizon crossing

C) event when static must send signal to reach probe as probe reaches singularity.

⇒ After C, none of the probe's history is in the static's causal future any more,